BASE BALL.

The magnates of the game seem to be impressed with the idea that an air of mystery adds to their importance, and chief mission is apparently to mislead the public as to their purpos says the Sporting News. When the playing season begins, the men who mask their doings now, will be seeking publicity for their profit, and the newspapermen, whom they are ignoring, will be in demand. Columns of space, worth hundreds of dollars, will be devoted to gratuitous boosting of base ball, and the men of mystery will get the benefit. Every year the breach between these men behind the clubs and the newspaper writers is becoming wider, and there are few enthusiasts left in the Brainery of Buse Ball. Writers, who several years ugo kept the game before the public in the off-season, now seldom refer to it unless to roast the magnates. They are disheartened and disgusted because base ball, which they have done so much to popularize and make profitable, is handleapped by selfish and in-competent club-owners. Now that the League of American Wheelmen has abolished its racing department every attention will be given the other branches of work. The most provement department, in which is entrusted the work in behalf of the good roads movement, which was started by the L. A. W., and which has been constantly agitated by it for almost twenty years. The League has made Tapid strides in this movement, partic ularly during the past year, but the tacing question has reflected upon this as upon all other departments, the be-tief being disseminated that none of the branches of League work could be made effective until the racing ques-tion was settled.

The most important work accomplished last year was the holding of many good roads conventions in various states, the introduction of highway improvement measures in many of the state legislatures and the evolution of the movement to national proportions, as was evidenced by the bill introduced in Congress, calling for an appropriation of $5,000,000. Constitutional amondments were carried in Michigan and Minnesota, and a large amount of education on the subject was circulated by the League. All of this work will be continued during the present year, but upon a much larger scale than herstofors. In fact, this will be one of the most important agitations of the year side from the yresidential elections. The detegrates of the L. A. W. hard herself and they will enter into the work with increased vigor. They expect the co-operation of all wheelmen in the great work they are doing.

The report of the president of the League of American Wheelmen to the National Assembly showed the organi-tation to be in the best financial condi-tion despite the reduction in member-ship last year, owing to the agitation on the racing question. The treasury is well equipped for the work of the coming season, and will be in even better condition very shortly, for all of the members who have been in the League for four years or more must renew on or before the lat of April. There are over 10,000 of these members, and their renewals, together with new applications, will give the L. A. W. a strong disancied backing for the opening of the riding season. To supplement this all of the divisions will work with renewed energy, since the vexatious racing question will no longer harass them, and these facts make indications that the L. A. W. will enjoy a creditable and effective year.

About 10 o'clock last evening the fire department was called out by an alarm turned in at box 35 at the corner of Broadway and Jefferson streets. A slight blaze in the residence of William Sioan on South Fourth street, caused by the explosion of a gasoline stove, was the cause for calling out the department, the services of which were not needed. At 11.50 the department was again called out, the alarm being from the same box, and the fire located in the same house. This time the cause was from a defective flue, an accumulation of soot igniting. The department responded promptly and without much difficulty extinguished the blaze. The damage was slight. The report was circulated about town that the first blaze was of incendiary origin, as two men were seen running from the house shortly before the alarm was turned in. The report was unwarranted and false.
